

ARTIST BIOGRAPHIES

Katherine McCoy

Katherine McCoy (born 1945) along with her husband Mike McCoy, has been the Co-Chair of Cranbrook Academy of Art's Department of Design since 1971. She began her professional career working for Unimark International in 1967, and later went on to work at Chrysler Corporation and Omnigraphics, Inc. McCoy served as the President of the Industrial Design Society of America from 1983 to 1984. She was also honored to be the 1982 IBM Fellow of the International Design Conference at Aspen. McCoy recently juried the 1984 United States Presidential Design Awards. McCoy studied industrial design at Michigan State University.

Doug Kisor

Doug Kisor is an artist whose interests include graphic design and Dutch contemporary art. He studied design at Michigan State University and Western Michigan University. Kisor's graduate work included study in Switzerland and Italy. His experiences in each country greatly influence his work.